Interior Designers Source Book

2006
Edition

2006 NEW YORK CITY / LONG ISLAND EDITION

The Interior Designers Source Book is designed to serve as a source book of goods and services for interior designers and design firms in the Greater New York City Market, including all the boroughs, downstate NY, Long Island, and parts of Northern New Jersey.

Every effort has been made to make this book as complete as possible, but the primary responsibility for inclusion in this book rests with industry suppliers. Though listings are FREE, suppliers must request inclusion by submitting an official FREE listing form that is available on the IDSG website at: www.spcnetwork.com/designer. Suppliers can also call Stevens Publishing Company to request a free Listing Form via fax.

Considering the huge job involved in compiling industry data, some reputable suppliers may have missed inclusion in this year's edition. We apologize for this, and urge any and all suppliers to please submit their official form so they are included in next year's edition.

Get the Inside Scoop On Copper Alloys

Copper - Brass - Bronze
Copper Nickel - Nickel Silver

Create a signature look for your next client. Copper alloys offer a wide palette of colors, textures and excitement for interiors. See the possibilities. Learn how to make them work for you.

Schedule a box lunch seminar with the Copper Development Association. This one-hour program provides one AIA Learning Unit (HSW).
